DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 10 and 11-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DE 3904008 A1. The reference teaches a cooking device comprising a storage container (33) and a cooking drum (1) containing a cooking liquid that is connected to the storage container by means of a transportation pipe (8), the drum accommodating a revolving agitator (3) that conveys the cooked portions onto a discharging conveyor chute (19,20) and the frying drum being accommodated in a service drum (2) in such a manner as to be axially displaceable. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to have designed the frying drum to be a hollow cylinder closed on all sides, since applicant has not disclosed that such a design choice solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the invention would perform equally well. Regarding claims 12 and 14, note the discharge drum (4) arranged in the cooking drum and remove the fried material from the cooking drum by a revolving agitator that conveys it into the discharge drum through a slit-shaped recess (15).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.
